

TOCQUEVILLE SCHOLARS PROGRAM

The Tocqueville Scholars program is grounded in the principles of Alexis de Tocqueville, with the goal to educate exceptional students in America's constitutional, economic, and political foundations. The Tocqueville Scholars program prepares students to become civic leaders in government, law, business, and public affairs through an in-depth curriculum and engaging co-curricular activities.

Students in the program will receive an $1,250 scholarship each semester they are active in the program.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Students completing the Tocqueville Scholars Program will complete the American Civics Minor. The course outline below indicates the course schedule for the duration of the four-year program. The program is open to any academic major.

Year One

Fall Semester
IAC 101: Foundation of American Citizenship

Spring Semester
IAC 102: Visions of America

Year Two

Fall Semester
IAC 201: Construction and Reconstruction of the American Republic

Spring Semester
IAC 202: Civil Society and the State

Year Three

Fall Semester
IAC 305: Democracy in America

Spring Semester
IAC 203: Constitutional Foundations

Year Four

Fall Semester
IAC 412: Philosophical Foundations of American Politics

Spring Semester
IAC 495: Special Topics in American Civics

CO-CURRICULAR REQUIREMENTS

Tocqueville Scholars will be required to attend IAC guest lectures and other programming, including:

- Semesterly reading group.
- Baker School events
- Additional co-curricular programs to be determined.

Learn more and apply at civics.utk.edu

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE
KNOXVILLE

INSTITUTE OF AMERICAN CIVICS